Hutchison's Surplus Stock Sale of Titanic Proportions continues this week only, at which new, selected, seasonable merchandise will be sold at

LOWER PRICES THAN EVER

THE THIRD and last week of this surplus stock sale is now in progress, and we will present many striking features, none more so than its abnormally low scale of prices.

This sale was originally designed to dispose of surplus stocks. The goods we had to buy in excess of our legitimate requirements to obtain control of special markets and to get prices lower than any firm buying in limited quantities could ever hope to reach.

This year things are reversed, the great advance in the prices of many articles of merchandise has resulted in a correspondingly increase in the prices everywhere but HERE.

Our contracts were placed many weeks before prices soared skyward, and we could take our big stock now, should we elect to do so, and sell it a big profit at wholesale to other dealers, but we shant. As we buy, we sell, is a motto we consider ourselves solemnly pledged to, and this splendid congress of unmatchable bargains, covering three great floors, filled with up-to-date merchandise at your disposal this week.

Of course, some of you will be skeptical, very well—let such come and see real 75c Suits selling for 33-1-3 cts. per yard; real $1.75 worth of groceries selling for 98 cents; real $1.25 Coats selling for 79 cents; real $8.00 Suits of Clothes selling for $3.98 and so on; real $3.00 Shoes selling for $1.98.

Another list of bargains is the choicest expression of appreciation for your generous support—we print it—and urge you to read it carefully.

Fashionable Wedding.

Special to the Leader.
Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 25.—One of the most stylish weddings which ever took place in this city was enacted here tonight. The fashionable people of the city were in attendance and the function was the most brilliant held in the city this fall.

The contracting parties were John Warren Inslee and Caroline Louise Archbold. Mr. Inslee is an employee of the O. R. R. at this city, and is a rising young business man. Miss Archbold is very popular in society and is an acknowledged belle.

The newly wedded pair, amid a shower of rice from their friends, left last evening for Marietta.

Mr. and Mrs. Inslee arrived in the city last evening from Parkersburg and are quartered at the Norwood hotel. They will leave this morning over the O. R. R. for their bridal trip.

New York, Oct. 25.—The Academy of Music in Brooklyn was crowded to the doors tonight by people who came to hear Secretary Lyman J. Gage on the campaign issues. The meeting was under the auspices of the Brooklyn Young Men's Republican Club.

Plea of Insanity.

By Associated Press.
Marysville, O., Oct. 25.—In the Ferrell murder trial the defense introduced witnesses to prove that Ferrell has manifested a tendency to insanity, and to show that his character has been good. Witnesses said that Ferrell has been regarded as "queer." Tobias Ferrell, the father of the prisoner, was the last witness on the stand, and his examination was not concluded when the court adjourned till tomorrow.

Great Day for Roosevelt.

By Associated Press.
Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 25.—The closing speeches of an arduous day in Roosevelt's campaign were made at Auburn and Syracuse after jumps through widely diverging counties. Altogether it was a favorable day.

Syracuse itself was a blaze of light, while thousands of people thronged the streets. In Auburn three meetings had to be held to accommodate the crowd.

"SHORE ACRES" OCTOBER 23.

When "Shore Acres" was first written Mr. Horne thought of calling it "The Hawthornes." It seems that his farm at Bery, Maine, is lined along the seashore with hawthorne trees and that suggested the name. Afterwards he changed it to "Shore Acres Sub-division," but as everyone thought that was some real-estate venture, it was abandoned and for a time the play was enacted under the role of "Uncle Nat."

This, however, did not at all please the author and he at last decided to call it "Shore Acres" and under that title it has achieved a most distinguished success. Although Americans know and understand this title if the piece were produced in England that would have to be changed, as they speak of land lying along the sea as the "Fore Shore." A thoroughly first-class production of "Shore Acres" will be given at the Auditorium on Monday night, October 29th. Seats on sale at Gates' Book Store this morning.
